LOCAL PEOPLE

Left Bequests by Mrs. C. C. Garretson.
Under the terms of the will of Charlotte C. Garretson, who died at New Hyde Park on December 27, filed Saturday in Superior Judge's court in Willimantic, L. L. an estate of upwards of $100,000 is disposed of, and a considerable sum of it to local people. Mrs. Charlotte C. Garretson, wife of Rev. J. H. Townsend, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, is left $20,000 in a trust fund, and Miss Lavina C. Townsend's aunt, who lives with her in this city, is also left a trust fund of $20,000. Other bequests are made by Mrs. Garretson to relatives and friends all over the United States, among them being a number to people living on Long Island.

ACUTE INDIGESTION

Alarmed Neighbors of Ashford Man.
Monday morning a citizen of Ashford telephoned to a physician in this city that a man there was acting queerly and that it was believed that he had the rabies. The physician first called and did not go because of several urgent cases requiring his immediate attention and he referred the Ashford case to a better physician. The man who was supposed to have the rabies was Mr. McDonald. He acted very strangely and complained of seeing fire and other unnatural things and rushed out of the house and through the lot, waving his arms and shouting. His neighbors, all at last caught him by the suspenders and pulled him sufficiently to be able to get him back to the house. Dr. C. E. Simonds of Willimantic drove to Ashford and following an examination diagnosed the case as one of acute indigestion caused by eating too much pork. The man was in a critical condition for a time but prompt attention soon relieved him.

How To Order Muzzles

Directions for Measurements:
First, measure the length around your dog's mouth below the eyes, as shown by Fig. 1. In the illustration, then measure from that to the back of the ear, as shown by Fig. 2.

Explanation: No. 1 measures around the nose below the eyes. No. 2 measures from No. 1 to back of the ear on the side of the dog's head.

If your dealer cannot supply you with THIS muzzle, send measurements with $5c and you will receive, prepaid, a muzzle that suits the world.

DOG WARDEN'S DUTY WEEK.

Dog Warden James J. Tew, having his trouble. He captured a dog Saturday and has located the owner, but the owner is not willing to come up with the $3 to redeem his dog, which is said to be a fine building. Dog Warden Tew says that he has knowledge that the dog in question has been with a tag for two weeks at least and he considers that the owner has had ample time to show a disposition to have him retagged. If the owner does not redeem his property, the dog warden has a right to kill the dog, which he will probably do.

First Selectman James J. Tew called Dog Warden Porter on Monday afternoon to the fact that a strange dog had been warning himself in the lobby of the new postoffice building and that he would not leave the building and Dog Warden Porter went to the lobby and found the dog. The dog, which had been there all day, was a black and tan canine without a tag or name. He roared when he was called and took him to the pound with the other dog that is not considered to be worth $3 by its owner.

The dog that had a liking to the cozy spot in the postoffice by the radiator was very tame and friendly, and named, but had evidently wandered a little too far from home, and refused to leave the office and seek shelter in another office nearby.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. John J. Judge.
Mrs. John J. Judge, of Holyoke, Mass., well known in this city, died Monday morning at her home of pneumonia at 5 o'clock. It is believed that she had contracted the disease while caring for her son, Clarence, who is now undergoing treatment at a hospital. There survive, besides the husband, three sons, William, Clarence and Arthur Judge, all of Holyoke, and a number of cousins, among whom are Edward F. and Lawrence Casey of this city.

FUNERALS.

Mrs. Gertrude M. Hutchins.
The funeral of Mrs. Gertrude M. Hutchins was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her home at 148 Main street, followed by a mass at St. Joseph's church, at which Rev. M. J. Lynch was celebrant. The bearers were Bernard Davis, Joseph Otis, James McQuillan and John Doyle. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery.

FRAUD REVEALED.

John R. Parkhurst One of Gang Securing Fake Subscriptions.
As the result of the arrest of John R. Parkhurst, aged twenty-one years, in this city on Saturday afternoon, the operations of a gigantic fraud that has been worked upon the public of the country will all probably be revealed. Parkhurst was arrested on complaint of an East Hampton boarding house keeper, charged with non-payment of a board bill, and was taken to East Hampton Saturday evening by Constable J. R. Rich.

As he was being taken to the station following his arrest, Parkhurst was seen to throw away an order book that was recovered afterwards. He has been working the Connecticut valley towns securing subscriptions for Uncle Remus Magazine. He admitted that he was one of a number of men who had been securing the subscriptions and that each man kept something like nine out of every ten subscriptions secured and that the single one was sent to his employer, whom he claimed he did not know, but was a man of about 45 years of age, who hired the canvassers and assigned them their territories.

Parkhurst was fined $7 and costs at East Hampton Saturday night and sentenced to Haddam jail to work it out. He claims that as soon as he gets out of jail he will return to East Hampton and work long enough to pay the boarding house keeper what is coming to him. Parkhurst first claimed his home as Savannah, Ga., but later changed it to New York city.

QUESTS OF PRINCIPAL AND Mrs. Burr.

Principal and Mrs. H. T. Burr on Saturday evening entertained the faculty of the model training school, Windham high schools at the home. Whist was played and a general social time was enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served during the evening.

Observed Holiday.

Monday, the legal holiday in commemoration of the birth of Lincoln, was only slightly observed in this city. The banks were closed and flags flew at the mast head on the public buildings and a few merchants noted the day with patriotic window decorations.

Judgment for Plaintiff.

In the case of M. Eugene vs. Charles T. Crane of Atwoodville, an action to collect on a note, judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $83 and costs. No evidence was submitted on the part of the defense, but Monday morning, he took an appeal to the superior court, furnishing the prop-

SAVE THIS PRESCRIPTION

The following prescription may prove more valuable than gold in time of need. For weak, nervous kidneys, half ounce murex compound, six ounces good brandy. Take one to two tea-spoonsful after each meal and at bedtime. Any well stocked drug store has the ingredients. This quickly restores these organs to normal, curing rheumatism, neuralgia and other well known symptoms must be treated promptly to save from more serious kidney trouble.

DANIELSON

Contagious Cases.
City Health Officer Dr. W. P. S. Keating reports the following contagious cases reported to him for this week: Measles 35, scarlet fever 4, diphtheria 3. The third case of diphtheria to be added to the list was the young son of Joseph Nichols of Lafayette street and same was quarantined Monday. The child was taken ill in the morning.

Frank Brown Committed Suicide.
The police arrested a young man who had been found dead in a room at 387 Valley street extension. Captain H. H. Richardson, Daniel Kilgour and a couple of newspaper men went to the house to investigate the case. Frank Brown, aged 35, lying partly disrobed on a bed in a three room tenement, Daniel Kilgour, who was found Friday evening between 8 and 9 o'clock by Mrs. Sarah McKell, who lives on the second floor, in which Brown was found by Bartholomew Taylor, who went to the tenement Monday morning. The body was found unclipped and the keys were laying on the table in the kitchen. A small table at the head of the bed, and in it the dress of what had been a woman. A liberal quantity of carbolic acid, Medicine, and a bottle of I. Mason was notified, and arrived at the house at 8:12 o'clock and pronounced the man dead. A coroner's inquest was held at 8:12 o'clock and a verdict of suicide was returned. Brown was a carpenter by trade and had been out of work for a week or so. He had a light complexion and on Friday evening he had limited to the Taylors and Mrs. McKell that he might go to Massachusetts. It is believed that suicide was the result of despondency. There survive a widow, Mrs. Brown, and three children, Emory Brown of Hartford, Edna Pearl and Oliver Brown, who live with Mrs. Brown, who when last heard from was supposed to be living in New York city. Brown had a number of relatives in the city and his own housekeeping. The medical examiner turned the body over to First Selectman James J. Tew, and he in turn turned it over to the funeral directors Elmore and Shepard to prepare for burial.

Meeting of Board of Aldermen.

David A. Trumbull appeared before the board of aldermen Monday evening and asked for permission to erect a building in the rear of his block, on Main street, to be used as a garage. He had made a plan for the building, which was approved by the board. The board also considered a petition from the residents of the block, who were complaining of the noise and dirt from the building. The board decided to require the building to be constructed in accordance with the requirements of the city regulations. The mayor then brought up the question of the election of a new alderman to fill the vacancy created by the death of John R. Parkhurst. The board decided to hold a special election on the next Tuesday evening.

Willimantic Prisoner

Out With Axe Swung Too Far by Other Woodchopper.
Joseph Messier of Willimantic, a prisoner at Brooklyn jail, is confined within the walls of the prison on account of an accident in which he received a bad cut on an arm while engaged in the work of felling a tree. The tree was the back part of the leg below the hip joint and was sustained, it is understood, while he was cutting against the trunk of the tree. The axe of a fellow worker over-carried in its swing and buried itself in his flesh. Dr. H. H. Tanner of Brooklyn and Dr. P. P. Todd of Danielson attended Messier, who will probably recover without permanent ill effects.

Twenty Applications for Membership.

A meeting of the officers of the Franco-American Naturalization club, which has been organized by the Franco-American club, was held at the home of the officers on Monday evening. Thirty applications for membership were received. The number enrolled totals 15. A general meeting for all the members has been arranged to be held in Danielson during the month of March.

Lincoln Memorial Services.

The Lincoln Memorial services held in the Congregational church at Dayville Sunday evening proved very impressive. The church was filled to capacity. The special car run from Danielson carried 57 members of the club and a number of friends. The speakers were Rev. William J. Reynolds, pastor of the church, and Judge Harry E. Back of Danielson, who delivered the Lincoln day address.

Chicken Thief Not Wily.

If you are going to steal any chickens—that is, if you have the habit—don't cut their heads off. The owner of a farm near here has a habit of cutting off the heads of his chickens and putting them in a basket. The thief, who was caught by the owner, was not wily enough to do this. The owner said that he had caught the thief in the act of cutting off the heads of his chickens. The thief was taken to the police and is now in jail.
